

Inspirational Afternoon:

Butterflies From Around the World

Wednesday, February 6th
1:30

View spectacular butterfly and moth displays from the world's tropical rainforests: Central America, Amazon, Africa, Southeast Asia and New Guinea, many collected by the presenter. Learn about and discuss science concepts including camouflage, mimicry, insect anatomy, metamorphosis, and tropical climate. Presenter Steve Fratello has explored the world's tropical rainforests for approximately 1,000 days and led several major scientific expeditions for the Smithsonian and Field Museums.

Don't miss this incredible lecture!